Payments, Refunds & Trial Class Policy

Updated 14.06.2021

Payments

Payments should be made via PayPal or bank transfer. We no longer accept cash payments unless the amount is for a full or half term. If paying for the term, fees are due in advance or split across 2 payments no later than the dates specified.

Alternatively, monthly payment arrangements can be made.

Please endeavour to make payments on time as this enables us to pay for the hire of the venue and purchase the art materials needed for the duration of the term.

Refunds

Classes are transferable (to another person or date) but unfortunately non-refundable once booked, except in special circumstances.

If you have paid for an art term and the student does not attend sessions without prior notice, we cannot refund or transfer these classes.

If booking the art classes for the term but you have holidays/appointments already booked (resulting in missed art classes), it is possible to pay only for the sessions you will attend.

In the event of us cancelling any future class you will be offered an alternative date to attend.

Trial Classes

Trial classes are £10 and can be booked via the single session PayPal button or via bank transfer.

Should you choose to continue sessions are payable as a block booking or spread across 2 payments.
